World University Rankings for Innovation

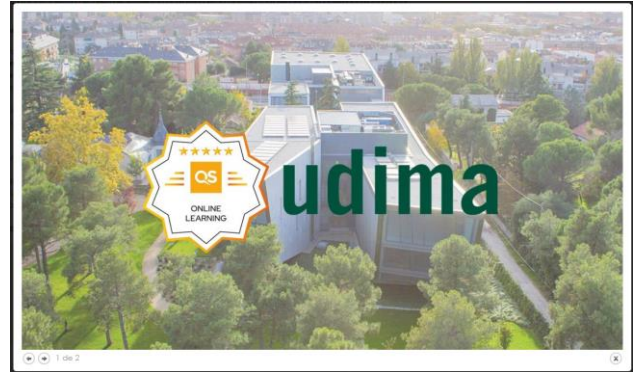

The World University Rankings for Innovation (WURI) evaluates higher education institutions based on their real contributions to industry and society. Using 15 categories, it measures innovative education, research, and societal engagement. WURI highlights institutions excelling in these areas, aiming to inspire advancements in academia and society.

INTERNATIONALLY RECOGNISED QUALITY

The quality of our programmes is backed by national and international accreditations and certifications:

With AMBA accreditation, ESIC is among the elite of the best business schools in the world. Only the most prestigious institutions achieve this accreditation. This amounts to around 2%.

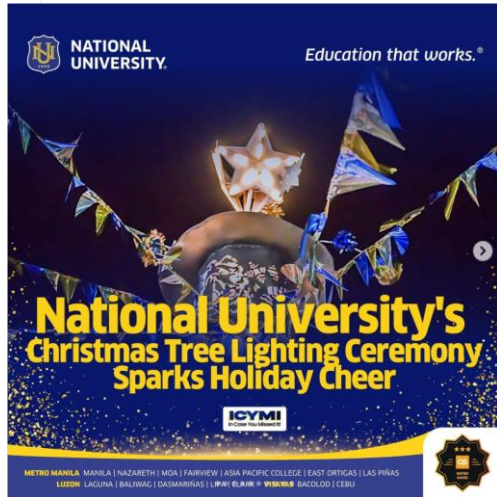

International programme accreditation system operated by EFMD. They assess the quality of any Business and/or Management programme that has an international perspective and, when it is of adequate quality, accredit it.

The QS Intelligence Unit has rated ESIC University and ESIC Business & Marketing School as a five-star institution, the highest score, globally and in all the categories evaluated.
